PlantNetwork
Connecting gardens, sharing skills

PlantNetwork Glasshouse Forum Day:

Maximising Displays and Sourcing Material for the Glasshouse Environment

Oxford Botanic Garden

Tuesday 24 March 2020

Join us

If you work in protected environments in public gardens, this is the networking and information day for you! It is an opportunity to share information and problem solve with others working in similar roles. This event focuses on maximising displays and sourcing display material.

Programme

From 09:45	Registration opens
10:00 - 10:15	Welcome to the day
10:15 - 10:45	How can glasshouse displays meet different needs?	Kate Pritchard, Glasshouse Curator, Oxford Botanic Garden
10:45 – 11:15	Reviewing your glasshouse collection – curation and audit	Fiona Inches, Glasshouse Manager, Royal Botanic Garden Edinburgh
11:15 – 11:25	Comfort break
11:25 – 11:50	Challenges of sourcing material: Nagoya Protocol and ABS for glasshouse collections	China Williams, Senior Science Officer (Science Policy), Royal Botanic Gardens Kew
11:50 – 12:15	Managing quarantine for pests and diseases	Jonathan Hazelwood, Plant Health & Seeds Inspector, Animal and Plant Health Agency (APHA)
12:15 – 12:30	Discussion on sourcing material – Q&A
12:30 - 13:15	LUNCH & networking
13:15 – 14:30	Tour of Oxford Botanic Garden and Glasshouses
14:30 – 14:45	Refreshment break
14:45 – 15:30	Lightning Talks from participants: introduce your glasshouse or raise topics/issues for discussion in five minute mini-sessions
15:30 – 16:00	Glasshouse Forum – Going Forward Resource sharing: expertise, materials etc.	Facilitated discussion
16:00	Close

[Subject to change]