

CBD and CITES for Gardens

9.45am–4.30pm
Tuesday 23 February 2010
Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew

The Convention on Biological Diversity and the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora pose both opportunities and challenges for the holders of plant collections. This workshop will consider these implications on our work and share ideas about how gardens can work together to deliver the objectives of the Conventions: conservation, sustainable use and benefit sharing.

Among the topics included in a day of talks, questions and discussion will be:

- CBD and CITES for horticulturists
- Access and plant import/export legislation – including advice for plant-collecting expeditions
- Examples of plants on CITES appendices
- Benefit sharing for horticulturists
- Simple examples of best practice
- Further information and keeping up to date

If you have particular aspects and questions you would like to discuss, it would be helpful if you could let us know in advance.

A light lunch will be provided and there will be a brief walk to look at some plants at the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.
